The story

Alice is sitting by the river with her sister one day when she sees a white rabbit – wearing a jacket and waistcoat – run past. She follows him and jumps down the rabbit hole after him. At the bottom of the hole she finds herself in a very strange world where animals talk and act like humans. She also finds that she grows and shrinks in size, depending on what she eats. She finally meets a caterpillar who helps her return to the right size.

She meets a Duchess who has a strange animal – the Cheshire Cat. The Cheshire Cat has a big smile, but he can also become invisible. When he disappears, his tail goes first, and the smile goes last.

Alice is invited to a tea party by the March Hare and the Mad Hatter, and then finds herself at a game of croquet with the Queen of Hearts and her servants – who are all a pack of playing cards. The game stops when everyone is called to court for a trial.

The judge at the trial is the King of Hearts and they are trying to find out who has stolen some tarts that the Queen made. When Alice is called as a witness she says that she finds the trial ridiculous and shouts that they are just a pack of cards. Then she wakes up and finds herself back next to her sister.
Introducing the book

The cover

- Hold up the book and point to the cover. Read the title to the class. Read it again and encourage the children to repeat it after you.
- Ask them to look at the picture and ask What do you think the story is going to be about?

The contents page

- Ask the children to turn to the contents page. Explain that the Contents list tells us what is in the book.
- Explain that the story is a classic (famous) story by the writer Lewis Carroll. Point to his name. Other famous stories by Carroll include Through the Looking-Glass (Explorers 6). Explain that the story has been retold by another writer. Point to her name.
- Ask How many chapters are there?

- Read the chapter titles to and with the class. Briefly explain any unfamiliar words.
- Read the last four sections of the contents page.
- Explain that How does the little busy bee and Twinkle, twinkle, little star are poems which are mentioned in the story.
- Explain that ‘Victorian toys and games’ gives some information about these traditional activities.
- Explain that ‘About the author’ will give more information about Lewis Carroll.
- Read the chapter titles again and ask questions about them to stimulate the children’s interest, for example.
- Chapter 2: How can there be a pool of tears? How big would it be?
- Chapter 7: What happens at a tea party?
- Chapter 8: Have you heard of, or played, the game ‘croquet’? Can you say anything about it?
- You can play the audio download of the story at any time you choose. See http://www.macmillanyounglearners.com/readers/macmillan-english-explorers

Before reading
• Pre-teach vocabulary, and practise new items.
• Look at page 2. Ask What animal is this, how is it dressed, and what is it doing?
• Look at page 3. Point to the suits from a pack of cards near the top of the page. Ask What are these? Where can you see them? Tell the children that they will see these wherever there is a break in the story.
• Look at page 5. Ask What is Alice doing?
• Look at page 6. Ask What is Alice holding? What could be in the bottle?

During reading
• Read pages 2–3 up to the card suits on page 3 (or play the audio). Do not stop to explain or ask questions. Ensure that the children are following in their books.
• Read pages 2–3 again, and encourage the children to read along with you. Repeat if necessary.
• Read again, a paragraph at a time. Explain any difficulties. Encourage the children to use the pictures to help with understanding.
• Repeat these steps with the rest of the chapter, breaking the reading at the card suits on page 4.

Stage 1 comprehension
Ask questions orally, or set them as a written activity.
1 Where was Alice at the beginning of the story?
2 Where did she fall?
3 What did she find at the end of the tunnel?
4 What did she find behind the curtain?
5 What happened when she drank from the bottle?
6 What did she find under the table? What did she do with it?
• Finally, ask the children to re-read short sections of the story aloud.

After reading
Stage 2 comprehension
Ask questions orally, or set them as a written activity. Encourage the children to give reasons for their suggestions.
1 Was it a good idea to drink from the bottle? Would you have done it?
2 Why couldn’t Alice get the key after she drank?
3 Was it a good idea to eat the cake?
• Ask What do you think will happen to Alice after she eats the cake?

Chapter 9
Who stole the tarts?
Pages 56 to 60

CHAPTER 9
Who stole the tarts?

Everyone went into the court building. Lots of animals and birds were there, and Alice could see the whole pack of cards – the Spades, the Clubs, the Hearts and the Diamonds.

The Jack of Hearts was a prisoner in chains, guarded by two soldiers. The White Rabbit stood near the Jack, holding a trumpet and a piece of paper. Alice saw a plate of jam tarts in the middle of the court and she started to feel hungry.

‘I hope we can eat them later,’ she thought.

‘I think that’s the judge,’ she said to herself, looking at a man wearing a long, grey wig on his head. He was sitting on a big throne next to the Queen.

‘The judge is the person in charge of the court,’ Alice thought. ‘But he’s wearing a crown as well! Oh, it’s the King of Hearts! And I can see the jury.’

Alice knew that the jury are the twelve people who

• Read the poem on page 57 with the children and check their understanding. It is a traditional English poem, more than two hundred years old.
• Ask What will happen to Alice in the final chapter?
Chapter 10
Just a pack of cards
Pages 61 to 66

During reading
- Read pages 61–62 down to the card suits on page 62 (or play the audio). Do not stop to explain or ask questions. Ensure that the children are following in their books.
- Read pages 61–62 again, and encourage the children to read along with you. Repeat if necessary.
- Read again, a paragraph at a time. Explain any difficulties. Encourage the children to use the pictures to help with understanding.
- Repeat these steps with the rest of the chapter, breaking the reading at the card suits at the top and bottom of page 65.

Stage 1 comprehension
Ask questions orally, or set them as a written activity.
1 What happened when Alice stood up?
2 What did Alice do to help the jury?
3 What did Alice know about the tarts?
4 What did the White Rabbit want to read?
5 Had the Jack of Hearts signed the poem?
6 Who read the poem?
7 What did the cards do at the end of the trial?
8 Where was Alice when she woke up?
- Finally, ask the children to re-read short sections of the story aloud.

After reading
Stage 2 comprehension
Ask questions orally, or set them as a written activity. Encourage the children to give reasons for their suggestions.
1 Why did Alice think about her goldfish when she saw the jury?
2 Does the poem on page 64 mean something, or is it nonsense?
3 Why did Alice have to leave court? How did she answer?
- Ask the children if they agree that it was a strange dream.
How does the little busy bee
Page 67

Before reading
• Read the title of the poem and look at the picture. Ask the children what they think the poem will be about.

During reading
• Read the poem (or play the audio). Ensure that the children are following in their books.
• Read the poem again – this time the children should read along with you.
• Read again. Get individual students or groups of students to read each verse.

After reading
• Compare the poem to Alice’s version on page 11. What are the differences?
• Ask about the features of the poem. There are words that rhyme, and there is a rhythm and verse structure.

Twinkle, twinkle, little star
Page 68
• For this song, follow the same procedure as with the poem on page 67.
• Compare the song to the Mad Hatter’s song on page 44.

Victorian toys and games
Pages 69 to 71

Before reading
• Ask Do you know, or have you played any of these games?
• Ask Can you describe how to play them?

During reading
• Read through the different games and toys with the class. Ask questions orally, or set them as a written activity.
1 What game do you play with a long stick?
2 What game can you play with a dice?

After reading
• Ask the children to write instructions for one of the games in the book, or for another game that they are familiar with.

About the author
Page 72

Before reading
• Ask Look at the photograph. Can you describe this man?

During and after reading
• Read through the information about Lewis Carroll. Ask questions orally, or set them as a written activity.
1 What was his real name?
2 Who was Alice Liddell and why is she important?
3 As well as writing stories, what else was Lewis Carroll good at?
After reading the book

These questions are intended for oral use in class but you may ask children for written responses if you feel it is appropriate.

Response to the story

• Ask Did you like the story? Why? Why not? Did you think it was interesting or boring? Was it exciting or too predictable? Which part of the story did you like best? Were there any parts of the story that surprised you? What did you think of the ending?

• Talk about the way each chapter ended. Ask Did the end of the chapters make you want to read on? Talk about how this technique is often used in stories and other media such as TV.

Characters

• Ask the children about the main story characters. Did you like Alice? What did you think of the Mad Hatter and the March Hare? What about the Queen of Hearts?

Plot

• Encourage the children to retell the basic story in their own words. They can use the pictures as a framework for doing this.

Settings

• Ask Where did the story take place? Go through the book with the class and ask them to identify each of the story settings.

Moral issues and themes

Use any of these themes from the story as a basis for a class discussion:

• Dreams. Ask What is strange about the world of dreams. What sorts of things happen in dreams that don’t happen in real life?

• Talking animals. Ask Are the animals in this story really animals, or are they really humans? Do you like stories where animals talk and behave like humans?

Vocabulary

• Pick out one or more words from the active vocabulary list for each chapter. Ask the children if they can remember the meanings.

• Ask the children to show their understanding of the vocabulary by using the words in sentences.

Follow-up ideas

• As a class compose a story sequel using this story as a model.

• Animals and strange people. There are a lot of different animals and strange people in the story. Ask the class to make a list of the ten most important animals or people and write short descriptions of them.

• Drama. Get the children to act out part of the story, but be aware that some may be disruptive, so begin with a simple section like the Caterpillar or the Cheshire Cat before attempting the tea party or the game of croquet. Give each child a part to play and they can act out the story as you read it.
